The Davis Family Evangelizing Belize

ARRIVAL:

I am glad to share the joyous news of our safe arrival in Belize, Central America!

In a delightful turn of events, I had the pleasure of reconnecting with Clyde Morris at the airport upon arrival. I originally met and witness to Clyde and gave him a bible back in 2014. As I reported in one of my past prayer letters, he was in a motorcycle wreck, but I'm happy to share that he has overcome the ordeal with only minor complications. I was able to encourage and pray with him before we got picked up. It was a heartwarming moment of recognition and a reminder of the lasting impact of connections made in our service for the Lord Jesus Christ!

We were also warmly welcomed by our missionary friend, Michael Burkhart, in Belize City. He graciously picked us up and drove us to our mission house in the capital. PTL!

The Schwiger's who are Christian friends of ours from Canada, and helped out with our solar previously were in Belize on vacation. It was a blessing to see each other as well.

Despite the challenges of musty, dusty, and rusty conditions, along with our refrigerator going out again, we are starting to get things functional. The weather here has been consistently rainy, providing ample water for washing clothes but also presenting its own set of challenges. However, in the midst of these circumstances, we find great fulfillment in the doors of ministry.

MINISTERING HIGHLIGHTS:

I had the privilege of assisting in feeding the young police cadets at two different schools. Understanding the limitations the local police face, including a shortage of vehicles and reliance on personal motorcycles for community policing, I was grateful to utilize our vehicle during heavy rain to deliver much-needed food.

Another joyous highlight was having six professions of faith at the police ministry this past Monday. It is truly a blessing to see hearts stirred and lives transformed through our efforts here.

Thank you for standing with us in prayer and support as we navigate both the joys and challenges of our mission in Belize. Your partnership is invaluable, and we look forward to sharing more updates in the New Year!

Yours faithfully,

The Greg Davis Family
